This is the first opportunity Mr. Millikan has had to attend a national convention, and he has anticipated the event with much interest, as some of the best educators of the east will be on the program. Large delegations are attending from Southern California.

Stormy Session Marks Meeting of City Trustees

BOARD RECEIVES APPLICATIONS FOR POSITION OF CITY MARSHAL

A somewhat tempestuous session marked the proceedings of the regular meeting of the board of city trustees on Monday evening. The storm broke when Trustee Schach asked permission to read into the minutes an affidavit which, it is alleged, would show that a member of the board had instigated and dictated a letter which played a prominent part in the summary dismissal of City Marshal Barry several weeks ago. Trustee Laycock vigorously protested against the reading of the affidavit and his position was sustained by the chairman of the board, George H. Maxfield, and amid some confusion the board finally adjourned.

During the early portion of the session a number of applications from various police officers throughout the county were read. On motion, all of these were laid over until the next meeting to provide time for investigation.

The city clerk filed with the council his verification certificate of the petition seeking the recall of the present chairman, George H. Maxfield. The verification certificate showed that of the 298 names upon the petition, only 12 were disallowed, making a bona fide petition of 286 names. In compliance with the law, the recall election required a petition of 224 names. Acting City Attorney Dailey S. Stafford suggested the advisability of calling the election on the date of the regular municipal election, which will be April 11th.

Following a brief discussion, it was decided to leave this matter open until the next regular meeting of the board, which will occur on March 1st. The attempted recall of Mr. Maxfield is the outgrowth of the dismissal of City Marshal Barry.

SCHOOLS WILL OBSERVE

Monday will be Washington's birthday, but will not be observed by the merchants as a holiday, as it is not one of the days set aside by the business men's committee of the chamber of commerce. The schools, however, will observe the holiday.

STORMS VS. SUNSHINE

How would you like to spend the winter months in Pennsylvania? The following is the meteorological summary for January made public by the Erie Daily Times: The weather forecaster for that city showed that January failed to have one clear day, with a mere 62 hours of sunshine during the month out of a possible 395 hours; sixteen rainy days, twenty-two cloudy days, high temperature of 50 degrees, and a low temperature of two below zero.

As a contrast, during the same month in Southern California there was not a cloudy day.

Chamber Issues Protest Against Canyon Closing

COMMITTEE ON PROPOSED SIGNS AT CITY LIMITS
GIVES REPORT

Very general interest is growing in the weekly luncheons and meetings of the chamber of commerce, as shown by the increased attendance and the wide scope of matters discussed and handled.

At the Tuesday meeting the committee on the proposed signs to be erected on the Pacific Electric right of way at the east and west limits of the city made an extended report. The chairman of this committee is Mr. W. A. Vinney, who is being ably assisted by Mr. Joseph E. Laycock, a member of the city board. The committee recommended the closing of the San Gabriel canyon to the general public during the construction of the large dam, the other a resolution urging immediate construction of the dam at the forks, the delay of which had been caused by a protest filed with the federal government by the city of Pasadena against the granting of a right of way for a railroad in the floor of the canyon. The synopsis of this resolution follows:

The resolution, after setting forth the voting of $25,000,000 in bonds for the construction of a flood control and water conservation dam with a capacity of 240,000 acre feet in the San Gabriel canyon at "the Forks," states that the safety of thousands of people depends on the construction of said dam; that the construction is delayed by a protest from the city of Pasadena against granting right of way for a railroad in the floor of the canyon to proposed dam site; and that a federal commission is conducting hearings upon the application of the flood control district for a reservoir site and railroad right of way, and resolves:

First, that the dam and reservoir site have received the approbation of eminent engineers; second, that future investigations by the division of water rights and future developments after completion of the reservoir may demonstrate that additional storage facilities be required, which would be impossible if the proposed dam should be built at a lower site than "the Forks"; third, that the height of the proposed dam at the forks is 480 feet, in comparison with a height of 530 feet at the lower point, Granite Dike, the greater height of the dam increasing the danger of flood through breakage; fourth, an election to authorize change in site would imply serious legal questions, undoubtedly resulting in an interminable and bitter litigation, as the lower site is in part controlled by the city of Pasadena, as the people of the communities and rural districts entitled to the natural flow of the San Gabriel river are unalterably opposed to the construction of said dam and reservoir at any point which would give the city of Pasadena any claim to the waters which would be intercepted by said dam and stored in said reservoir, or any control of said dam or reservoir. And further resolved that the federal commission be furnished a copy of this resolution and be urged to grant the application of the Los Angeles flood control district for the rights of way applied for by it, that the board of supervisors may advertise for bids for the construction of the dam.

Luncheon Given for Dr. Bertola by Woman's Club

STATE PRESIDENT GIVES TALK ON WOMEN'S CLUB WORK

A twelve-o'clock luncheon was tendered Dr. Bertola, state federation of women's clubs president, on Monday at the home of Mrs. C. A. Leighton by the directors of the Covina Woman's club.

Dr. Bertola was accompanied by Mrs. Graham, district chairman on motion pictures. Other guests, presidents of federated clubs in the valley, were: Mrs. A. L. Meier of Azusa; Mrs. Charles Gordon, Glendale; Mrs. Florence Dix, Baldwin Park; Mrs. T. E. Foster, Irwindale; Mrs. J. F. Vordornmark, El Monte.

The decorations of the luncheon tables, with covers for twenty, and the four-course menu were planned with special thought for the distinguished visitor, whose home is in the northern part of the state, the orange motif being present throughout.

The members of the board of the local club present were: Mrs. Mary M. Coman, president; Mrs. Henry Damerel, Mrs. Carl Shirley, Mrs. J. C. Pearson, Mrs. C. A. Leighton, Mrs. C. E. Paige, Mrs. G. F. Rinehart, Mrs. E. J. Summers, Mrs. Ralph W. Crook, and Mrs. Robert Broadwell.

Delegations from the surrounding clubs were present at the afternoon meeting, giving pithy reports of the work accomplished during the past year.

It remained, however, for Dr. Bertola, with her charming personality, to recount the accomplishments obtained by the concerted action of 70,000 federated club women in California along commercial, social and religious lines, and to press home the duty of each individual member.

Speaking from years' experience in child welfare and daily contact as a physician, Dr. Bertola made the statement that the 65 per cent of criminals under the age of 21 in California were such largely through the lack of religious training in the homes, believing that veneration and respect for law comes with the home training.

Mrs. Charlotte White Naftel, accompanied by Mrs. Henry Damerel, sang a group of songs, "I Sent You a Song" (Sanderson); "Oh Fair, Oh Sweet and Holy" (Cantor); and "I Passed By Your Window" (Brahe-Lucas). Both musicians were highly praised by the honor guest.

Tea was poured by Mrs. J. R. Elliott and Mrs. C. W. Potter, assisted by Mrs. E. G. Prather, Mrs. S. S. Aschenbrenner, and Miss Victoria Reynolds.

OPTIMIST CLUB PRESIDENT ADDRESSES ROTARIANS

"Service Clubs" was the theme of the address delivered by A. D. MacLeod, president of the Los Angeles Optimist club, and of the firm of MacLeod, MacFarlane and company, auditors and tax collectors, before the Covina Rotary club at its weekly luncheon on Thursday.

The address dealt with the moral service rendered the communities by these organizations. The other speaker was Mr. James Ovas, secretary of the grand lodge of Masons of Manitoba, father-in-law of our local townsman, Ralph Frost, owner of the Rexall drug store.

The musical portion of the program was provided by little Miss Audrey Houseworth, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Houseworth, the former being mechanical superintendent of the Southern California Edison company at this point.

When Washington Reclaimed the Swamp

AS a great Patriot, Washington holds a place of highest rank in the hearts of Americans.

His accomplishments as an industrial leader, too, were great.

For five years, starting 1763, he managed a lumbering project in the Great Dismal Swamp. Draining 40,000 acres was a part of the work.

He won! He got out the lumber!

Washington, through his mill, lumbering, fisheries, a public ferry and farming, amassed a fortune. He doubled the value of his and his wife's properties.

Cash on hand and well-established credit made his financial success possible.

His example is one to follow. A banking connection here will help you.

Rev. Bunker Dies at Ripe Old Age

Rev. Rufus A. W. Bunker, brother of Mr. Marcellus Bunker of Covina, died at his home in South Pasadena on the 10th of February, at the ripe old age of 81 years. Interment at the Evergreen cemetery of Los Angeles on Friday.

Rev. Bunker came to California from New Hampshire in 1881, and has been in the Southern California conference of the Methodist church ever since, serving first at San Diego and at Riverside, Pasadena, Los Angeles, El Monte, and other points. He owned and resided on a citrus ranch on East Cypress avenue, Covina, for a short time about sixteen years ago. It was through his advice while pastor of the Pasadena Methodist church that it purchased a lot on the corner of Colorado and Orange streets which recently sold for in the neighborhood of $200,000. Rev. and Mrs. Bunker celebrated their fiftieth wedding anniversary in 1923, with notable guests of church and state in attendance.

Rev. Bunker was a Civil war veteran. He was one of the cannoners to fire the salute at the burial of President Lincoln, all of whom were picked soldiers six feet tall.

Deceased is survived by his widow, a grandson, L. Jerome Crouch of Glendale, a granddaughter, Mrs. Edith Strain of Seattle, a sister in Maine, a brother, Marcellus Bunker, and a niece, Mrs. Flora Lane of Covina.

Valley Beautiful Meets in Covina

The Valley Beautiful association will hold its next meeting in Covina, Friday, February 26th, with a dinner at the Stone Lantern. Hugh J. Pomroy, of the county planning commission, will be one of the principal speakers. A. M. King of Alhambra, secretary of the association, will talk on "How to Abate the Bill-board Nuisance." "The Women's Important Part" will be discussed by Judge R. D. Wickham of Los Angeles, and "A Word From the Associated Chambers" will be given by its president, J. L. Matthews. Musical numbers and a reading will be given by local talent.

The dinner, which will be at 6:30, will cost 75 cents per plate. Anyone interested will be welcome and is requested to make reservation not later than Thursday evening with Mrs. S. S. Aschenbrenner, vice-president.

CLUB WOMEN DOING WORK AMONG MEXICANS

The women of the Americanization committee of the Woman's club, who give much of their time at the Merwin district, held one recent meeting at the school that was especially interesting. While Mrs. Windmead and Miss Knight entertained the children with a Valentine party and in making Valentines, Mrs. LeRoy Carter held a cooking school for the older girls and mothers of the district.

These women were very much interested in the manner in which Mrs.

Poor Fruit Ban Saves Huge Sum

Keeping frost-bitten oranges off the market put more than $15,000,000 into the pockets of California fruit growers last year. W. G. Allewalt, chief of the state department of agriculture bureau of fruit and vegetable standardization, in making this estimate, explained that elimination of damaged oranges enabled growers to sell the remainder of the crop at not less than $1 more per box than they would have realized if the good and bad fruit had been shipped indiscriminately.

"It has been demonstrated repeatedly," he said, "that the market will take a large volume of a good product without danger of glut, but that a smaller quantity of a poor grade will quickly spoil the best of markets."

Allewalt cited the orange crop as one instance of the value of the California fruit and vegetable standardization act to the producer. The legislation was initiated and sponsored, he pointed out, principally by the producers themselves, for their own protection.

The standardization act sets up minimum standards for some nineteen crops, which are specifically named, and requires that these crops when packed, shipped and offered for sale, shall conform to these standards.

Carter prepared a meat loaf and baked sweet potatoes, and as a result a cooking class will be held once a month.

Other meetings are held at intervals, when the boys and girls are given demonstrations in various things.

Mrs. Patten, who is the storekeeper, held open house and disposed of many articles that had been donated for the purpose. These ladies are always glad of donations of clothing and household articles that are saleable.

Thursday of this week the flower study section of the club held a planting at the schoolhouse, when trees and shrubs were planted and flowers set out that will be cared for by the school children. A similar planting was held last year and many of the shrubs are showing growth.

The Peteet Tragedy

The following editorial from the columns of the Los Angeles Times on the Peteet tragedy is probably the sanest review of this sickening incident of the many hundreds of columns which have been written during the past two weeks by the editorial writers of California. In strikes at the seat of this horrible condition, and is worthy the consideration of every American family who are inclined to visit these dens of iniquity in a spirit of curiosity or for the thrill of the forbidden:

The promised co-operation of the governments of the United States and Mexico in a move to clean up such border conditions as those which led to the self-destruction of four members of an American family after a visit to Tia Juana gives ground for the hope that even from that pitiful and shocking tragedy ultimate benefit may come. The whole truth of the Peteet case will probably never be known. The four principals are dead by their own hands, or by the hand of the father of the two young women whose abduction and mistreatment in the dens of Tia Juana were to them an unendurable disgrace. Those others with first-hand knowledge of what actually occurred are apt to prove prejudiced and unreliable witnesses.

As well as it can be pieced together from the known facts, the story is, to a certain point, the ordinary one of the visit of a group of Americans to Tia Juana in search of more potent gayeties than are available above the line. Thomas Peteet, his wife and two grown daughters, all lately from Missouri, comprised the party. All were drinking. In the course of their potations, the father declared, they were served drugged liquor. While he was in a stupefied condition his daughters were spirited away and held prisoners for some time in different Tia Juana dives, where they were subjected to outrage. Later they were released and managed to find their way back across the border, where the immigration officials were apprised of what had occurred.

When the family returned to their temporary home in San Diego they appear to have agreed upon suicide as preferable to facing the world after their terrible experience. So much is intimated in a note found in the gas-filled home where three lay dead and one dying. A loaded but unfired revolver beside the body of Peteet indicates that he was the instigator of the pact, perhaps more.

The case of the Peteets is probably not exceptional save in the tragedy. The dens of Tia Juana are notorious and from them seep tales of crime and outrage revolting alike to good Americans and to good Mexicans.

Nor can all the blame be laid at the door of Tia Juana itself. The principal patrons of her bars, dance halls, gambling hells and dives are Americans. It is American money which keeps Tia Juana alive as a plague spot on the border. To a degree at least, it is the demand of Americans for pleasures with the lid off which is responsible for those conditions.

The Peteets were typical of thousands of middle-class Americans who visit Tia Juana, chiefly from curiosity and for the thrill of the forbidden. Peteet and his daughters were children of the century. They fancied they could come in contact with vice without contamination; that they could cleanse themselves of the filth of Tia Juana by a bath and a change of clothes.

Whatever their own fault or folly, responsibility for their fate may not be shirked by society. They may have reaped the reward of blind and foolish recklessness, but that does not justify another hour of life for the conditions that wrought their ruin. If their fate stirs the public on both sides of the line to a united effort to wipe out those conditions the Peteets will not have died in vain.

Gov. Rodriguez has an almost impossible task to keep the kind of people who go to Tia Juana going straight. It is only due to the fact that he is courageous, able and right-minded that there is any safety under conditions that now exist at Tia Juana, where gambling and booze are legalized under the law. He is not responsible for the law, but is limited to keeping conditions as tolerable as possible under such law. He must be supported by public opinion on both sides of the border.

There are people, well intended but misled, in California who would like to bring about legalized gambling with horse racing here, believing that it would attract tourists and promote material prosperity. There are others who would like to bring "light wine and beer" back in order to give other curiosity seekers an opportunity to get the thrills at home that the Peteet family sought in Tia Juana.

Painting your home is not an expense, it's an investment. Have you ever looked into the advantages of Sherwin-Williams' paint? We have it in any kind or quantity you want.

Have you noticed that the days are getting longer? Have you figured out your income tax?

We have often made the statement that the Zenith Washer doesn't really salesmanship. We're ready to back that statement up. If you'll let us demonstrate a Zenith in your home, we'll agree not to say a word. Is that fair enough?

We have never seen the San Gabriel valley looking more beautiful than it is now.

How we envied the high school boys and girls that passed the store last Monday on their way to the snow. They must have had a good time because they made just as much noise when they returned.

We've believed a lot of these radio stories. But Geo. Meek tells us that he got a male quartet the other night, and with his radio set he was able to tune out all but the tenor! Can you beat that one?

Early Days in Covina

TEN YEARS AGO

The civic committee of the Monday Afternoon club, Mrs. C. W. Co-mun, chairman, this week sent to the general manager of the Pacific Electric railway a petition signed by fifty-two residents of Badillo and Center streets, including a majority of the city trustees, asking that all freight trains with their noise, clanging bells and odors, be routed over the Southern Pacific tracks through the city.

The orange growers interested in the relocation of the north bank of the San Dimas wash in the San Jose foothill district, have effected an active organization to devise plans for temporary relief work.

The sixty-eighth assembly republicans will hold a gathering for organization on Saturday night, this to be a permanent club for work during the coming campaign.

Thirty-five delegates from the Covina churches will attend the missionary convention for men only, to be held in Los Angeles on the 27th under the auspices of the National Layman's missionary movement.

San Gabriel valley at big orange show. Three bands head delegation which goes to San Bernardino today. "Bigger, better and more artistic than ever" is what the committee in charge of the San Gabriel valley display said when they returned last night.

The Valentine dance and card party given by the ladies of the St. Margaret Guild of Holy Trinity last Friday evening in the Woman's clubhouse was one of the most popular dances of the winter. Bobbie Burns' orchestra from Los Angeles furnished them music.

Miss Emily Leighton of Los Angeles entertained the members of the D. A. R. at the home of her brother and sister, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Leighton, on West Badillo street.

Mrs. G. D. Jennings will entertain about fifteen ladies at afternoon tea Saturday at her home on East Badillo street in honor of Miss Shupp, sister of Irwin Shupp.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

One of the most important real estate transfers of the past week was the purchase of Dr. J. D. Reed of J. M. Holt of the latter's interest in vacant lots on the southwest corner of Citrus avenue and Badillo.

Horace G. Bemis has purchased of S. R. Headley his block on the west side of Citrus avenue for $4500. This property is now occupied by Webb's hardware and Hawthorne's wholesale liquor establishment.

Thirty dollars to California—that is the rate from Chicago; $27.50 from St. Louis; $25 from Missouri river points, every Tuesday, Feb. 12 to April 30.

Complaints are heard on all sides of the poor light furnished by the Covina Electric Light company. The superintendent states that the trouble is due to some difficulty with the transformers, which would be remedied in a few days.

Among the social events of the past week was a reception tendered the Covina Dramatic club by Mr. Harry Damerel, at the home of his parents on Azusa avenue and Badillo street, on Thursday evening.

The property owners on the north side of West College street, including the Methodist church, Dr. Reed, C. W. Potter and B. S. Webb, are laying a cement sidewalk in front of their respective properties. Such an improvement as this adds very much to the appearance of any locality and its conveniences to all cannot be over-estimated.

Henry Childs, a noted burglar, several weeks ago captured by Miss Virginia Root, daughter of our fellow citizen, L. H. Root, was sentenced this week to serve four years at San Quentin.

I. C. Fairly is building a small office on his property immediately south of the Hotel Vendome.

E. G. Zug has been incapacitated for work during the past three weeks from a badly gathered hand caused by a prick from an orange thorn.

Name Picked for Recreation Park

San Dimas Foothill park. That will be the name of the county recreation ground at the mouth of the San Dimas canyon, it is announced.

This spot in San Dimas canyon was set aside for park purposes by the county some months ago. J. M. Paige of Pomona, who was asked to suggest a name, reports that he and his committee of the associated chambers of commerce of the San Gabriel valley, have agreed on that above given as an appropriate and distinguishing title for the public center. It will be recommended to the county board of supervisors for ratification.

The park will be ready for the public about the end of April, it is estimated. About that time the Pacific Electric railway will begin offering transportation for groups who want to come for picnics, meetings, etc.

Some fifty sycamores are now being set out, and about 100 gum trees are in place. Gum trees are not common in this section but are attractive trees and widely grown in the south and east. They do not produce chewing, however.

Comfort stations have been completed and work on the barbecue pit is well along. The plot set aside for a baseball diamond has been plowed and it will be dragged after the rains are through, it was stated. Swings, seesaws and other devices to keep the kiddies happy are also included in the county's plans, but the heavier part of the work is now being attended to.

INCOME TAX RETURNS MUST BE FILED BY MARCH 15TH

Income tax statements are just being received by taxpayers who have been accustomed to making returns. The delay has been caused by the enactment of new laws which will govern this year's returns.

So far, instructions place the net income to be reported, $1500 for a single person and $3500 for a married person or head of a family.

Tax for first $4000 over exemption is reduced from 2 per cent to 1½ per cent. Allowances for dependants remain at $400 each.

These statements must be filed by March 15th with the internal revenue office at Los Angeles.

Persons having made sales of real estate showing a profit must include entire profit in net income in year that sale is made, if conveyance of title is given, and proportionate profit if sale is on contract.

"THE THREE H'S" CAUSE OF MOTOR ACCIDENTS

What causes the greatest majority of motor accidents has been the subject of careful study not only with the National Safety Council, but with various organizations the country over. The public safety department of the Automobile Club of Southern California is allied in this intensive study and is ever ready to receive definite information relative to motor vehicle casualties.

In a letter just received by the safety department, the writer presents the situation as he sees it very tersely. He said, "The three H's cause 75 per cent of the motor accidents—Hooch, Hugging, and Haste."

Mr. S. C. Landrum has received word of the death of his cousin, Dr. J. R. Daniels, of Clarence, Mo. Dr. Daniels, who formerly practiced at Merced, California, has visited Mr. Landrum and family on several occasions.

Registrations for the city election April 12th close March 12th.

OBITUARY.

Funeral service for Benjamin T. Viall was held from Cresce's Highland Park undertaking parlors, Los Angeles, February 12, at 10:30 in the morning. Rev. W. W. Koler, Methodist minister at Garvanza, officiating. At Inglewood cemetery the Masons had charge and used the impressive ritual of the order.

Mr. Viall was born at Chicopee Falls, Mass., May 7, 1873. The family moving west he received his high school education at David City, Nebraska, passing a year at the state university at Lincoln, thence to Stanford University, Palo Alto, of this state, where he took a course in electrical engineering, graduating in 1900. Later, he took a test course at the General Electric factory of Schenectady, N. Y.

In 1903 he married Helen A. Lee of Covina, who survives him together with a brother, Lewis I. Viall, of Kansas City and a sister, Mrs. W. C. Bell of Alhambra, California, all of whom were present at the burial.

Most of the active life of the deceased was spent in the mining regions of Arizona and New Mexico, including Bisbee, Arizona, with the Calumet and Arizona Mining Company, Miami, Arizona, with the Miami Copper Company, and with the Phelps, Dodge Corporation. In October, 1925, he made the change to Eureka, Colorado in the employ of the Sunnyside Mining and Milling Company, where he contracted a cold which resulted in infected sinuses, of which after a two weeks illness he died in the hospital at Silverton, Colorado, February 3, 1926.

A member of the Baptist church from youth, a Scottish Rite Mason, loyal and devoted, a man of sterling character and upright life, a many-sided man of varied gifts, he leaves a host of friends to mourn his loss and miss his genial presence and "leaves a lonesome place against the sky." But to him an entrance, for Life is eternal, Death but a portal To realms supreme And life immortal.

CITRUS HIGH SCHOOL WINS BASKETBALL CHAMPIONSHIP

Friday, the Citrus heavyweight and lightweight basketball teams won the league championships when they defeated the Monrovia teams.

Covina's heavyweights ended up tied for fourth with Montebello and El Monte, while Puente was second and Monrovia third. The lightweights lost every game, while the peewees were third in the standings. The Monrovia babes copped the pennant.

Covina lost the last league game to El Monte, the game being played on the Alhambra indoor court on account of rain. Covina was ahead until the last minute of play, when a basket from the center of the court was thrown by an El Monte player.

The night-blooming cereus, one of the most beautiful flowers of the desert, is not wholly a flower of the night, as has commonly been thought. The annual exhibit of scientific work at the Carnegie Institution in Washington included two photographs of these rare plants being visited by bees that fly only in the daytime. Dr. D. T. MacDougal of the institution explains that the flower does not close with the coming of the first signs of dawn, but remains open for a time, usually giving the bees an hour or two of early daylight to work by, and thus freeing itself of total dependence upon night-flying moths for the important process of pollination.

Good Resolutions

Like everyone, Broadwell's will start 1926 with good resolutions. We expect to make this store the valley's best. Today a small city does not necessarily limit a merchant's field. Six miles from the center of Oakland a firm does over four million dollars worth of business per year.

Newer and better merchandise, and more of it, is our plan for 1926.

We shall carry and specialize on children's clothes—4 to 16—and expect to offer some wonderful values.

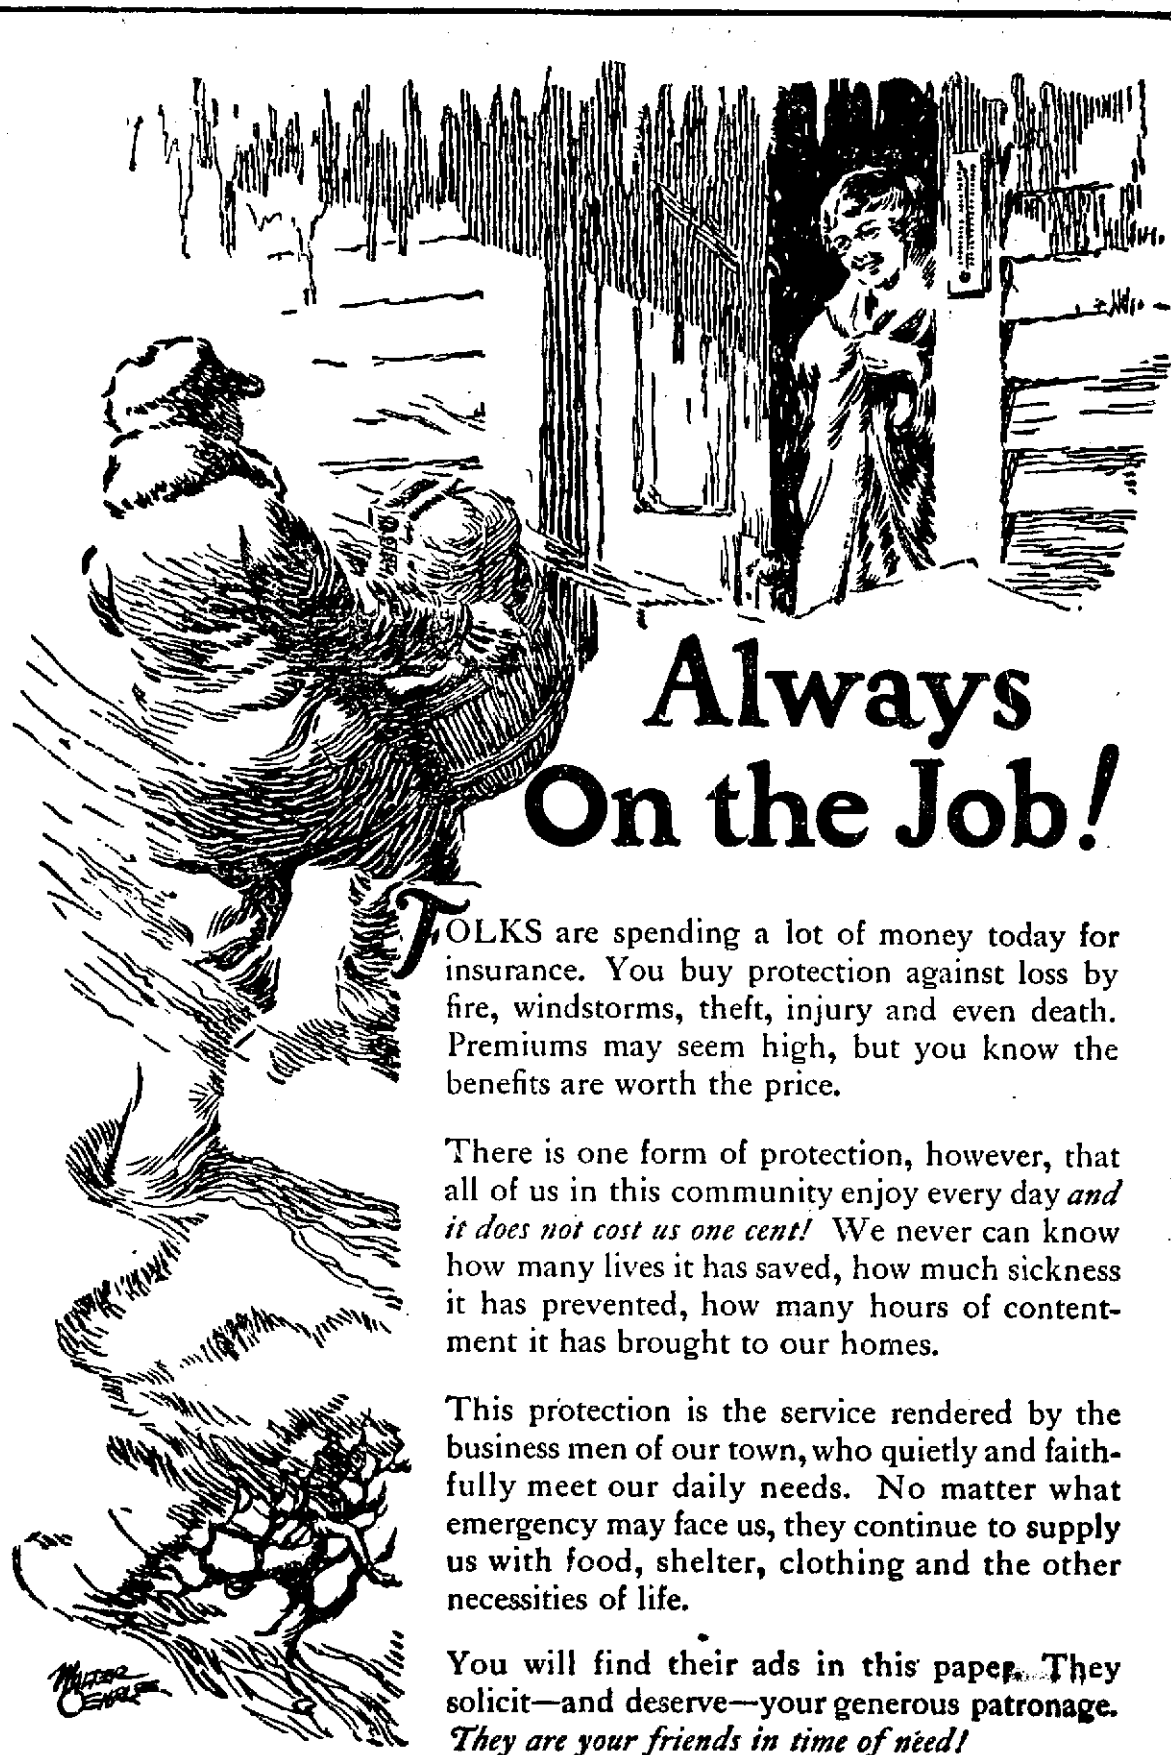

Ready-to-wear, shoes and millinery will all show great improvement and lower prices.

Energy and vision will dominate our policy, believing the future of the San Gabriel valley warrants all that our best efforts can produce.

We ask your co-operation and welcome suggestions for improvement.
